GERMANS TO STUDY

Committee Coming to Examine Into Operation of Computing and Tabulating Machines. Census Director Durand has received advices from the German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, through the Departments of State and Commerce and Labor, or tomorrow of a committee appointed by the German imperial ministry of the interior to study the organization and methods of the census bureau and other government statistical bureaus.

board of statistics at Berlin. Their object is to obtain information with a view to the adoption of reforms in the German methods of compiling, computing, tabulating and presenting statistical data. They will probably be here a week pursuing investigations. The ambassador states they will be especially interested in observing the actual peration of the semi-automatic electrical card-punching, card-tabulating and cardsorting machines, which have been perfected by experts in the employ of the census bureau. They will also investigate the operation of the various adding or computing machines, several hundred of which are in use in connection with the agricultural and manufactures statistics gathered by the census bureau.
